How to Use this Document

This document is a listing of audiovisuals related to animal care that are currently in the National Agricultural Library (NAL) collection. All audio visuals are available to others on an interlibrary loan basis (see page 109 of this document for more information). They cannot be purchased from NAL. If the reader would like copies of the materials, please contact the producer.

There are several ways to access the listed titles. There is a quick alphabetic listing by title and an extensive index. The body of the document includes a complete bibliographic citations in the same order as the title listing. The citations include the title, author, publisher, place of publication, date, format, length of time, keyword, a short descriptive note/abstract, and the NAL call number. Please note that the call number field includes terms such as--filmstrip, videocassette and slide and a number. Please include all this information when requesting them on loan from NAL.

Biomethodology of the Cat. Manassas, VA: MTM Associates, Inc.; 1987; 1/2" VHS, 14 min. 50 sec.

Keyword: Cats, restraint, drug administration, blood collection, euthanasia, veterinary training.

Note: This film demonstrates to animal technicians basic techniques for handling, restraining, and manipulating cats for research. Covers removal from caging, injection routes, blood collection, and euthanasia. Laboratory Manual For Basic Biomethodology of Laboratory Animals: Vol. II Dogs, Cats, and Primates accompanies the videotape.

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 337.

Biomethodology of the Dog. Manassas, VA: MTM Associates, Inc.; 1987; 1/2" VHS, 14 min. 16 sec.

Keyword: Dogs, restraint, drug administration, blood collection, euthanasia, veterinary training.

Note: This film demonstrates for animal technicians the safe and humane techniques for manipulating dogs in research, including removal from caging, injection routes, blood collection, and euthanasia. Laboratory Manual For Basic Biomethodology of Laboratory Animals: Vol. II Dogs, Cats, and Primates accompanies the videotape.

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 335.

Biomethodology of the Guinea Pig. Silver Spring, MD: MTM Associates; 1987; 1/2" VHS, 13 min. 27 sec.

Keyword: Laboratory animals, biomedical techniques, restraint, veterinary training.

Note: A demonstration of basic techniques involving guinea pigs, including identification, restraint, injection, blood withdrawal, and euthanasia.

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 200.

Biomethodology of the Laboratory Mouse. Silver Spring, MD: MTM Associates; 1987; 1/2" VHS, 15 min.

Keyword: Laboratory animals, biomedical techniques, restraint, veterinary training.

Note: A demonstration of basic techniques involving laboratory mice, including identification, restraint, injection, blood withdrawal, and euthanasia.

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 200.

Biomethodology of the Primate. Manassas, VA: MTM Associates, Inc.; 1987; 1/2" VHS, 15 min. 48 sec.

Keyword: Rhesus monkeys, restraint, tattooing, injection, stomach tube, nasal gastric gavage, blood withdrawal, euthanasia.

Note: This film demonstrates basic techniques for manipulating primates for research. It includes manual and chemical restraint, identification, injection routes, blood collection, and euthanasia. Laboratory Manual For Basic Biomethodology of Laboratory Animals: Vol. II Dogs, Cats, and Primates accompanies the videotape.

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 336.

Biomethodology of the Rabbit. Silver Spring, MD: MTM Associates, Inc.; 1987; 1/2" VHS, 14 min. 49 sec.

Proceptivity Patterns in Captive Lowland Gorillas, Orangutans, and Celebes Macaques. Shirley L. Davis. [Orono, Me.] : Onward Program, University of Maine, c1993. 1 VHS videocassette (21 min).

Keywords: Courtship, sexual behavior, primate behavior, gorillas, orangutan, macaques.

Note: This film documents female courtship by primates, and shows individual variations of this behavior. The emphasis of this program is on young adult female gorillas at the zoo of the Jersey Wildlife Preservation Trust and the Woodland Park Zoo. These females perform an unusual estrous behavior dubbed "bottom bouncing". They are also seen presenting to males, and posturing for solicitation in a prolonged courtship period. Also shown are female courtship behaviors of Bornean and Sumatran orangutans (Pongo pygmaeus) and Celebes black (or Sulawesi crested) macaques (Macaca nigra). The female orangutans exhibit some unusual vocalizations. The macaques show examples of sex skin swelling, and a copulating pair is harassed by juveniles.

Progress Without Pain. London, England: The Lord Dowding Fund for Humane Research; 1984; 1/2" VHS, 55 min.

Keyword: Animal models, laboratory animals, pharmaceuticals, alternative medicine, alternative testing methods, medical research.

Note: Part I, A New Approach to Health, challenges the notion that modern medicine is responsible for the increased life span and better health care enjoyed by the Western world. Rather, it identifies better nutrition, sanitation, hygiene, and living and working conditions as the major factors for improvements in health in the West. Major alternative therapies practiced in Britain are briefly surveyed. Part II, New Approach to Testing, argues that animal models are unreliable indicators of the effects of disease and drugs in humans. Alternative techniques that eliminate the need for live animal models, including chromatography, chemical analysis, cell and organ culture, theoretical techniques, clinical observations, and research with patients, are presented. Finally, the program discusses obstacles to the development of a more holistic and humane approach to medical research and treatment. A manual accompanies the videocassette.

Research Methods for Studying Animal Behavior in a Zoo Setting. Apple Valley, MN: Minnesota

Zoological Garden and Portland, OR: Washington Park Zoo; 1983; U-Matic 3/4", (Part 1) 19 min., (Part 2) 60 min.

Keyword: Musk oxen, macaques, flamingos, zoo animals, ethology, ethograms, statistics, sampling methods.

Note: This film introduces novice researchers to methods of studying animal behavior. Formulating a research question, reconnaissance observations, ethogram construction, sampling methods, data collection, statistical analysis, and interpretation of results are discussed. The program emphasizes five different sampling methods. The viewer can practice each method by watching and scoring the following samples of behavior: agonistic interactions of male musk oxen, social play in Japanese macaques, and feeding in flamingos. The accompanying manual includes examples of ethograms and data sheets for sampling.

Note: This tutorial program details presurgical scrubbing, gowning, and gloving procedures to ensure a sterile surgical environment. It is intended for students of veterinary medicine.

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 223.

Surgical Instruments and Their Use. Davis, CA: University of California at Davis; 1985; U-Matic 3/4", 33 min.

Keyword: Surgical equipment, surgical techniques, veterinary medicine, veterinary training.

Note: The proper use of various veterinary surgical instruments, including scalpels, scissors, clamps, tissue forceps, retractors, needle holders, suture needles, groove directors, and other miscellaneous instruments is described and illustrated. Proper suturing techniques are also covered.

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 207.

Surgical Procedures on Swine. Manchester, NH: Group Five Communications; 1989; 1/2" VHS, 36 min., 30 sec.

Keyword: Swine surgery, blood sampling, neck region and medial thigh.

Note: Topics covered include blood sampling, preanesthetic administration, and surgical approaches to the trachea, carotid sheath, external jugular vein, and the vessels of the medial thigh. This video was also produced by Charles River Laboratories.

NAL Call No.: Videocassette No. 1612.

Swine Handling and Transportation. Madison, WI: Livestock Conservation Institute; c1989?; 1/2" VHS, 21 min.

Keyword: Swine, handling transport, behavior.

Note: Dr. Temple Grandin describes basic principles of pig behavior including vision, flight zone, reaction to noise, and following behavior. Shows various handling and transportation practices that reduce bruises, decrease injuries, and increase efficiency.

NAL Call No.: Videocassette No. 1593.

Swine Handling for Pork Producers. Pork Quality Assurance Video Series. Video #3. National Pork Producers Council (U.S.); National Pork Board (U.S.). Des Moines, Iowa : The Council, c1996. 1 VHS videocassette (ca. 15 min.) and 1 manual (8 p.) + 1 quiz.

Keywords: Swine, behavior, production system, humane restraint and handling methods.

Note: Discusses how pigs need to be handled on the farm and how the understanding of a pig's behavior makes it easier to handle them.

NAL Call No.: Videocassette no.2332.

Swine Handling for Transporters. Pork Quality Assurance Video Series. Video #4. National Pork Producers Council (U.S.); National Pork Board (U.S.). Des Moines, Iowa : The Council, c1996. 1 videocassette (ca. 17 min.) and 1 manual (10 p.) + 1 guide (2 p.) + 1 quiz.

Keywords: Swine, transport, safe handling, behavior, techniques.

Note: Addresses transportation techniques to help assure the safe delivery of pigs to their destination. Pre-loading, loading, transporting, and delivery procedures are shown.

NAL Call No: Videocassette no.2333.

Swine Health Care. San Luis Obispo, CA: Vocational Educational Productions; 1981; audio cassette, guide.

Keyword: Management, care, husbandry, diseases.

Note: This program discusses the importance of prevention in combating diseases and parasites of swine, and gives an overview of common diseases and parasites of swine.

Recommended practices for prevention and/or treatment are also covered.

NAL Call No: Filmstrip No. 209.

Swine Management Practices II. Swine Production video Series. Tape #204 Lubbock, Tex.: Creative Educational Video, c1995. 1VHS videocassette (19 min.).

Keywords: Swine, reproduction management, production, housing.

Note: Shows advanced management procedures required for efficient swine production. Includes sow and farrowing management, litter management, environmental controls, waste management, and shipping procedures.

NAL Call No: Videocassette no.2579.

Swine Management Practices I. Swine Production Video Series. Tape #203. Lubbock, Tex.: Creative Educational Video, c1995. 1 VHS videocassette (18 min.).

Keywords: Swine, production practices, reproduction, husbandry.

Note: Shows the fundamental management procedures required for successful swine production. Includes types of operations, housing facilities and breeding management.

NAL Call No: Videocassette no.2578.

Swine Respiratory Disease. Ames, IA: Iowa State University, Extension Service in cooperation with WOI-TV. Shawnee Mission, KS: Distributed by RMI Media Productions; 1986; 1/2 " VHS, 120 min.

Keyword: Swine diseases, pneumonia.

Note: This is a set of four videos on swine respiratory disease. It was originally broadcast on Iowa Public Television Network between February 3-24, 1986. Part 1 is an introduction to swine pneumonia. Part 2 addresses atrophic rhinitis. Part 3 is a description of various bacterial pneumonia. Part 4 discusses mycoplasma viruses.

Symposium: Animal Welfare Compliance for Study Directors. Closter, NJ: Production Plus, Inc.; 1990; 1/2" VHS, 2 videocassettes, 208 min.

Keyword: Animal welfare, legislation, regulations, standards.

Note: Videotape of a presentation at the Symposium: Animal Welfare Compliance for Study Directors presented at the Eleventh Annual Meeting of the American College of Toxicology in Orlando, FL, October 1990. This program was specifically designed to provide information for study directors and principal investigators so that they can be in full compliance with USDA animal welfare regulations, but is also of value to those involved in animal care. Specific areas required for training under the Act are included in addition to information on the necessity for animal research.

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 976.

Systemic Anatomy of the Cat. Columbia State College, Learning Resources Center; Denver, CO: Distributed by Micron BioSystems, 19--; 1/2" VHS, 155 min.

Keyword: Comparative anatomy, dissection, domestic cats.

Note: This set of 8 videocassette guides students through cat anatomy dissection. V. 1. Muscular system, pt. 1: The hindlimb and hip -- v. 5. Urinary and reproductive systems.

NAL Call No.: Videocassette no. 2046.

T.E.A.M. Learning Exercises, part 2: Obstacles and Groundwork. Educational horse Linda Tellington-Jones and Robyn Hood. La Jolla, CA : Lawlor Productions, [1988?] 1 videocassette (62 min.).

Keywords: Horses, training, behavior problems, methods.

Note: Linda demonstrates how to apply her methods to such problems as nervousness, whirling, poor balance, lack of coordination, stubbornness and shying.

NAL Call No: Videocassette no.2142.

T.E.A.M. Learning Exercises, Part 1: Awareness Movements. Educational horse videos. Linda Tellington-Jones series Linda Tellington-Jones and Robyn Hood. La Jolla, CA : Lawlor Productions, c1988. 1 VHS videocassette (68 min.).

Keywords: Horses, training, horsemanship, behavior.

Note: These balancing exercises for horse and rider can improve problems such as nervousness, lack of coordination, and lack of concentration by working from the ground instead of the saddle.

The Animals Are Crying. New York, NY: Learning Corporation of America; 1973; 16 mm, 28 min.

Keyword: Pets, dogs, cats, animal shelter, spaying, population control.

Note: Through a visit to an animal shelter and discussions with shelter personnel, a young family becomes aware of dog and cat overpopulation and the urgent need for animal birth control.

NAL Call No: Motion Picture No. 170.

The Animals Film. New York, NY: Cinema Guild; 1981; 1/2" VHS, 136 min.

Keyword: Population control, intensive livestock farming, hunting, animal products, laboratory animals, saboteurs, animal welfare.

Note: Interviews with activists and filming on location provide the vehicles for a thorough examination of the animal rights philosophy and activities. A number of issues are examined, including animal population control, intensive livestock farming, hunting, animal products, and animal experimentation and testing.

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 183.

The Ascent of the Chimps. Santa Monica, CA: Greene and Dewar New Wilderness Productions; 1984; 1/2" VHS, 23 min.

Keyword: Chimpanzees, zoo animals, behavior, dominance.

Note: Lorne Greene narrates this segment of a popular television program that examines the behavior of over 50 captive chimpanzees held at the Arnhem Zoo in the Netherlands. It emphasizes the human-like "politics" and power struggles that occurred within the largest chimp colony of its kind from 1976 to 1983. Although footage from The Family of Chimps (Videocassette No. 434) has been incorporated into the program, this film is not as complete nor as entertaining as "The Family."

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 433.

The Avian Physical Examination and the Handling of Various Avian Species. East Lansing, Mich: Michigan State University; c1979; 1/2" VHS, 31 min.

Keyword: Birds, handling, avian medicine, veterinary medicine.

Note: Demonstrates techniques involved in handling birds for physical examinations. Birds used for the demonstration include the parakeet, cockatiel, great horned owl, kestrel, blue jay, and Canada goose. Discusses handling, physical diagnosis, treatments, and medicines.

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 1858.

The Bear Necessities: Environmental Enrichment for Captive Polar Bears. Potters Bar, Herts [England]: Universities Federation for Animal Welfare; c1992; 1/2 VHS, 20 min.

Keyword: Polar bears, behavior, captive animals, zoos, environmental enrichment.

Note: Repetitious, invariant behaviors without apparent goal are typical of captive polar bears.

This video illustrates such behaviors and offers practical suggestions for reducing them and creating an environment which offers the bears greater opportunities for a variety of activities.

NAL Call No.: Videocassette No. 1438.

The Challenge of Animals in Research. Lubbock, TX: Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center; 1989; 1/2" VHS, 30 min.

Keyword: Ethics, animal research, animal models, social attitudes, medical advances, animal welfare, regulations, guidelines, laws.

Note: Discusses different social attitudes and ethics toward the use of animals in research. Gives historical viewpoints and doctrines on the use of animals by man. Discusses medical advances. Gives historical background on animal rights and animal welfare, as well as the present animal rights situation, legislation and educational efforts. Covers current guidelines and regulations that govern animal research.

NAL Call No.: Vidiocassette No. 807.

The Control of Feral Cat Colonies. Potters Bar, Herts, England: The Universities Federation for Animal Welfare; c1985; 1/2" VHS, 13 min.

Keyword: Feral cats, control, humane methods.

Note: This program, authored by Brian Redhead, describes effective and humane methods to control feral cats as developed by the Universities Federation for Animal Welfare at the request of the Cat Action Trust. The method is based on trapping, neutering, marking by ear-tipping and returning the cats to supervised sites where their long term care can be assured.

NAL Call No.: Videocassette No. 1372.

The Dog and Cat in Research. Seattle, WA: University of Washington; 1977; 72 slides, audiocassette, 25 min.

Keyword: Dogs, cats, laboratory animals, biomedical techniques, husbandry.

Note: Research uses, acquisition, physical examination, conditioning, health maintenance, housing, and care of cats and dogs are presented.

NAL Call No.: Slide No. 215.

The Dog and Cat. Raleigh, NC: Laboratory Animal Training Association; 1988; 1/2" VHS, 35 min.

Keyword: Dogs, cats, laboratory animals, husbandry, experimental techniques.

Note: This program provides information on the humane care and use of laboratory dogs and cats for scientists, laboratory technicians, and students. The recommendations are consistent with the Public Health Services' Guide for the Care and Use of Laboratory Animals and regulations set by the USDA. Topics include housing, nutrition, environment, recordkeeping, animal health care, occupational safety, handling and restraint, experimental techniques, and euthanasia. A script, test, and answer key accompany the videocassette.

NAL Call No.: Videocassette No. 338, Vol. 4.

The Dog Owner's Manual. New York, NY: Maier Group Communications; 1984; 1/2" VHS, 51 min.

Keyword: Doctor Fox, pets, dog care.

Note: As part of Dr. Michael Fox's animal series, this video provides professional advice for healthier, happier, loving dogs. The tape serves as a guide to dog selection, care, and handling, including massaging techniques for dogs.

NAL Call No.: Videocassette No. 690.

The Down Side of Livestock Marketing. Watkins Glen, NY: Farm Sanctuary; 1991; 1/2" VHS, 19 min.

Keyword: Cattle, pigs, marketing, animal welfare, stockyards, transport, downed animals.

Note: Frank talk and explicit videotaping of weak, sick, and dying animals at stockyards and auctions comprise this tape. Farmers, livestock handlers, livestock transporters, profit margins, and low livestock prices combine to create pressures to overcrowd animals for transport and to ship sick or downed animals to market.

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 1285.

The Family of Chimps. New York, NY: Filmakers Library; 1980; U-Matic 3/4" (No. 421), 1/2" VHS (No. 434), 55 min.

Keyword: Chimpanzees, behavior, zoo animals.

Note: In 1971 the largest colony of chimpanzees ever assembled together in a zoo environment was established at the Burgers Zoo in Arnhem, Holland. This film illustrates how ethologists use the 2.5 acre wooded exhibit to study chimpanzee behavior. Social play, aggression, mating behavior, the development of social hierarchies, and other interactions are examined in this informal, and often amusing, film. (See also The Ascent of the Chimps, Videocassette No. 433).

NAL Call No: Videocassette Nos. 421 and 434.

The Frog Inside-Out. Livingston, NJ: Instructivision, Inc.; 1988; 1/2" VHS, 67 min.

Keyword: Frogs, laboratory animals, experimental techniques, dissection, anatomy, physiology.

Note: A clear, comprehensive instructional film appropriate for high school or college biology students. Part I, External Examination of the Frog's Anatomy, investigates how the frog's anatomy allows it to adapt to life on land and in water. It discusses the anatomy and physiology of vision, reproduction, locomotion, respiration, vocalization, hibernation, and skin pigmentation. Part II, Internal Examination and Dissection, outlines proper and humane dissection techniques, and uses footage of dissected frogs to examine the following body systems: skeletal, muscular, digestive, circulatory, urogenital, and nervous. Parts I & II use live animals, animations, diagrams, and micrographs of tissue cells to illustrate important points. The narrator states that this video is intended to reduce the number of frogs used for experimental purposes.

The Future of Human-Animal Relations. Minneapolis, MN: University of Minnesota; 1986; 1/2" VHS, 45 min.

Keyword: Pets, veterinary medicine, farm animals.

Note: This panel discussion addresses such topics as what pets will be like in the future, how preparation of veterinarians will change, the future of food animals, and our changing expectations from pets.

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 328.

The Guinea Pig and Rabbit. Raleigh, NC: Laboratory Animal Training Association; 1988; 1/2" VHS, 28 min.

Keyword: Guinea pigs, rabbits, laboratory animals, husbandry, experimental techniques.

Note: This video presents information on the humane care and use of laboratory guinea pigs and rabbits for scientists, laboratory technicians, and students. The recommendations are consistent with the Public Health Services' Guide for the Care and Use of Laboratory Animals, and regulations set by the USDA. Topics covered include housing, nutrition, environment, recordkeeping, animal health care, occupational safety, handling and restraint, experimental techniques, and euthanasia. A manual that includes a script, test, and answer key accompanies the videocassette.

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 338, Vol. 3.

The Guinea Pig: Biology. Seattle, WA: University of Washington; 1975; 51 slides, audiocassette, 20 min.

Keyword: Guinea pigs, diseases, anatomy, physiology, antibiotics, anesthesia, veterinary medicine.

Note: Aspects of guinea pig anatomy, physiology, reproduction, nutrition, and pharmacology are presented. Special attention is given to vital signs, growth, and hematological uniqueness, as well as to reactions to antibiotics and anesthesia.

NAL Call No: Slide No. 218.

The Guinea Pig: Diseases. Seattle, WA: University of Washington; 1975; 53 slides, audiocassette, 18 min.

Keyword: Guinea pigs, parasites, tumors, nutrition, infections, veterinary medicine.

Note: Common or important diseases of guinea pigs in five major categories are examined: bacterial infections, viral and chlamydial infections, parasitic diseases, neoplastic diseases, and nutritional and metabolic diseases.

NAL Call No: Slide No. 218.

The Guinea Pig: Introduction and Husbandry. Seattle, WA: University of Washington; 1975; 55 slides, audiocassette, 25 min.

The Laboratory Rat: Biology, Husbandry, and Research Methodology. Seattle, WA: University of Washington; 1977; 59 slides, audiocassette, 15 min.

Keyword: Rats, biomedical techniques, laboratory animals, husbandry, veterinary training, veterinary medicine.

Note: This slide set describes and illustrates basic anatomy and physiology of laboratory rats, discusses standard procedures for housing rats in the laboratory, and familiarizes the viewer with basic methodology employed for manipulating rats in research. Research methodology includes handling, restraint, blood collection, anesthesia, and euthanasia. Biological values, nutrient requirements, and environmental considerations are listed in the accompanying guide.

NAL Call No: Slide No. 221.

The Laboratory Rat: Diseases. Seattle, WA: University of Washington; 1977; 48 slides, audiocassette, 16 min.

Keyword: Rats, murine respiratory mycoplasmosis, haemobartonellosis, laboratory animals, veterinary medicine, veterinary training.

Note: This autotutorial program will familiarize veterinary and other biomedical science students with the principal diseases of laboratory rats, giving emphasis to two spontaneous infections occurring in laboratory rats. Etiology, pathogenesis, diagnosis, prevention, and treatment of the infections are detailed. A manual accompanies the slide set.

NAL Call No: Slide No. 221.

The Laboratory Rat: Introduction. Seattle, WA: University of Washington; 1977; 46 slides, audiocassette, 15 min.

Keyword: Rats, history, veterinary training, medical research, laboratory animals.

Note: This program provides basic information to veterinary and other biomedical students concerning the role of the rat in research. The presentation covers the history of the rat with respect to its domestication and use in research, and specific attributes that make this species particularly valuable as an experimental subject. Specific uses of rats in research are also examined, including its use in physiological, dental, and nutritional research; behavioral studies; drug evaluation; and oncology. A manual accompanies the slide set.

The Mouse: Bacterial and Parasitic Diseases. Seattle, WA: University of Washington; 1975; 67 slides, audiocassette, 20 min.

Keyword: Mice, laboratory animals, diseases, parasites, veterinary medicine.

Note: This slide program serves as a guide to the principal bacterial and parasitic diseases of mice including gram positive cocci, enteric gram negatives, small gram negative bacilli, miscellaneous bacteria, and mycoplasma. The program also describes and illustrates the history, significance, etiology, pathogenesis, clinical signs, diagnosis, pathology, and control of Tyzzer's disease and ectoparasites. A manual accompanies the slide set.

NAL Call No: Slide No. 227, Part 5.

The Mouse: Biology and Use in Research. Seattle, WA: University of Washington; 1975; 77 slides, audiocassette, 25 min.

Keyword: Mice, laboratory animals, medical research.

Note: This slide set covers basic biology and research uses of mice. The program describes and illustrates the following: history, taxonomy, nomenclature, sources and costs, anatomy, reproduction, physiological parameters, genetics, nutrition, behavior, growth, and life span. A manual accompanies the slide set.

NAL Call No: Slide No. 227, Part 1.

The Mouse: Handling, Restraint, and Other Techniques. Seattle, WA: University of Washington; 1975; 48 slides, audiocassette, 12 min.

Keyword: Mice, laboratory animals, experimental techniques.

Note: This program demonstrates basic technical skills required for the proper care of mice and for their use in biomedical research. It includes handling and restraint, injections and oral administration of medicine, blood and urine collection, sexing, identification, anesthesia, and euthanasia. A manual accompanies the slide set.

NAL Call No: Slide No. 227, Part 2.

The Mouse: Husbandry. Seattle, WA: University of Washington; 1975; 74 slides, audiocassette, 15 min.

Keyword: Mice, laboratory animals, husbandry, housing.

Note: This slide set examines environmental requirements, caging, bedding, feeding and watering, sanitation, breeding, transportation, and quarantine procedures involving laboratory mice. A manual accompanies the slide set.

NAL Call No: Slide No. 227, Part 3.

The Mouse: Neoplastic, Non-Infectious and Miscellaneous Diseases. Seattle, WA: University of Washington; 1975; 44 slides, audiocassette, 14 min.

Keyword: Mice, laboratory animals, cancer, tumors, veterinary medicine.

Note: This slide program illustrates the role of mice in cancer research. The presentation provides some insight into neoplastic diseases (leukemia, mammary tumors), non-infectious diseases (hormone contamination, chloroform and ethylene oxide poisoning), and miscellaneous causes of disease (hexamitiasis, encephalito-zoonosis, eperythrozoonosis, dermatomycosis) in mice. A manual accompanies the slide set.

NAL Call No: Slide No. 227, Part 6.

The Mouse, Rat and Hamster. Raleigh, NC: Laboratory Animal Training Association; 1988; 1/2" VHS, 34 min.

Keyword: Mice, rats, hamsters, laboratory animals, restraint, husbandry, biomedical techniques.

Note: This training film provides information on the humane care and use of laboratory rodents for scientists, laboratory technicians, and students. The recommendations are consistent with the Public Health Services' Guide for the Care and Use of Laboratory Animals and regulations set by the USDA. Topics include housing, nutrition, environment, recordkeeping, animal health care, occupational safety, handling and restraint, experimental techniques, and euthanasia. A manual that includes a script, test, and answer key accompanies the videocassette.

NAL Call No: Videocassette No. 338, Vol. 2.

The Mouse: Viral Diseases. Seattle, WA: University of Washington; 1975; 45 slides, audiocassette, 18 min.

Keyword: Mice, laboratory animals, mouse pox, diarrhea.

Note: This slide set discusses ectromelia (mouse pox) and viral diarrhea of infant mice, and illustrates their effects on mice. The etiology, pathogenesis, clinical signs, pathology, and diagnosis of the diseases are described. A manual accompanies the slide set.

NAL Call No: Slide No. 227, Part 4.

The Nature of Change. St. Louis, MO: The Monsanto Company; 1984; 1/2" VHS, 3/4" U-Matic, 17 min.

Keyword: Biotechnology, bovine somatotropin, farm animals.

Note: This film discusses the limitations of traditional animal and plant breeding, and the possibilities of overcoming these limitations using recombinant DNA technology. The program examines the uses of bovine growth hormone to increase milk production in cows and Agrobacterium tumefaciens for crop improvement.

NAL Call No: Videocassette Nos. 202 and 407.

The New Research Environment. Washington, DC: Foundation for Biomedical Research; 1987; 1/2" VHS, 14 min. (Tape 1), 30 min. (Tape 2).

Keyword: Rats, rabbits, laboratory animals, regulations, animal welfare, public opinion, surgery, biomedical techniques, animal care and use committees.

Note: Tape 1: The Animal Rights Movement: The Threat to Research explains how media coverage of a few instances of research animal abuse has significantly disrupted biomedical research. The history of the anti-animal research movement is briefly reviewed, and the results of a public opinion survey concerning the animal research community are presented. Tape 2: This program is divided into three parts: 1) An examination of the role of Animal Care and Use Committees (ACUC's) for ensuring humane laboratory animal treatment. It includes a dramatization of an ACUC conducting a protocol review; 2) A demonstration of techniques for manipulating laboratory animals for research. It covers handling, identification, injections, gavaging, anesthesia, blood collection, and euthanasia, using rats and rabbits as subjects; and 3) A demonstration of recommended procedures involved in survival surgery. Presurgical scrubbing, instrument sterilization, and postsurgical care are discussed.

Tools for Research: Questions About Animal Rights. Oley, PA: Bullfrog Films; 1983; 1/2" VHS, 37 min.

Keyword: LD 50, Draize test, animal welfare, pound animals, animal models, medical research, ethics.

Note: This film questions basic assumptions about animal research: Do existing laws actually protect laboratory animals? Is all animal research of value to humans? Is most current research repetitive and wasteful? Can experimental results from animals be accurately extrapolated to humans? Do lab animals suffer? Comments from psychologist Don Barnes and philosophers Peter Singer and Bernard Rollin suggest that much of animal research is unnecessary. The film includes old footage from Department of Defense animal experiments, and cosmetic and pharmaceutical laboratory animal testing.

Training Corral-Living Rhesus Monkeys for Fecal and Blood Sample Collection. Covington, LA: Falkenstein Productions and the Delta Regional Primate Research Center; 1990; 1/2" VHS, 27 min. Includes 1 article reprint of 3p.

Keyword: Rhesus monkeys, Macaca mulatta, blood, feces, collection and preservation, behavior, animal welfare, Laboratory animals.

Note: This videotape, authored by Margaret R. Clarke, shows acclimation techniques to reduce stress for corral-living rhesus monkeys (Macaca mulatta) when collecting fecal and blood samples. The monkeys are given food rewards in return for defecation in single holding cages. They also are trained to extend their leg through a modified squeeze cage for unanesthetized bleeding from the saphenous vein. Once the acclimation is completed, the animals are shown to be relaxed during the procedure. One adult female continued to nurse her neonate infant through the venipuncture. This behavior modification is intended to reduce stress and increase safety for the animals and the technicians. This tape also provides a look at the corral facility at the Delta Regional Primate Research Center at Tulane University.

Services Available to Individuals

The National Agricultural Library (NAL) supplies agricultural materials not found elsewhere to other libraries and information centers. Submit requests first to your local library resources. In the United States, possible sources are public libraries, state libraries, land-grant university or other large research libraries within a state. In other countries submit requests through major university, national, or provincial institutions.

If the publications are not available from your local library, have your library submit requests to NAL with a statement indicating their non-availability following the directions below.

Library Must Include the Following Data Elements in Each Request:

- Complete mailing address. (Library's Fax number or ARIEL™ IP address, if delivery by either of these methods is desired).
- Complete citation including verification (source of citation) and NAL call number if available.
- Date after which item is no longer needed.
- Copyright Compliance -- Libraries may indicate compliance by including the initials of one statement, either "CCL" for compliance with the copyright law or "CCG" for compliance with Copyright Guidelines or a statement that the request complies with U.S. Copyright Law or other acceptable copyright laws (i.e. IFLA, CLA, etc.). Libraries must also provide authorizing official's name.
- Willingness to pay charges must be indicated on the form.

The library must submit a separate interlibrary loan form or request for each item. If the citation is from an NAL database (AGRICOLA, Bibliography of Agriculture, or the NAL Catalog) and the call number is given, please include it. Materials in NAL's collection are loaned only to other U.S. and Canadian libraries. The following materials are not loaned: serials, rare materials, reference and reserve books, microforms, and proceedings of conferences or symposia. Photocopy or microform of non-circulating publications may be requested for a fee provided that the request does not exceed 50 pages per item.

Services Available to Libraries, Institutions and Organizations

The National Agricultural Library (NAL) accepts requests from libraries and other organizations in accordance with the national and international interlibrary loan code and guidelines. In its national role, NAL supplies copies of agricultural materials not found elsewhere. Submit requests to major university libraries, national or provincial institutions or network sources prior to sending requests to NAL. If the needed publications are not available from these sources, submit requests to NAL with a statement indicating their non-availability. Materials in NAL's collection are not loaned outside the United States; however, copies of materials may be provided. There is a limit of 50 pages per item to comply with copyright law.

AGLINET -- Requestors in countries with an AGLINET library are encouraged to make full use of that library and its networking capabilities. As an AGLINET participant, NAL provides free document delivery service for materials published in the United States to other AGLINET participants.

Requests -- Submit requests on the American Library Association (ALA) or the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions (IFLA) interlibrary loan form, or via electronic mail, Ariel™, or facsimile. (See further details under For Electronic Access and Delivery below.)

Charges:

- Photocopy, hard copy of microfilm and microfiche--$5.00 for the first 10 pages or fraction copied from a single article or publication. $3.00 for each additional 10 pages or fraction.
- Duplication of NAL-owned microfilm--$10.00 per reel.
- Duplication of NAL-owned microfiche--$5.00 for the first fiche and $.50 for each additional fiche per title.

Billing -- Charges include postage and handling, and are subject to change. Invoices are issued quarterly by the National Technical Information Service (NTIS), 5285 Port Royal Road, Springfield, VA 22161. Establishing deposit accounts with NTIS is encouraged. Annual billing is available on request by contacting NAL at the address below. DO NOT SEND PREPAYMENT.

For postal service delivery send requests to:

USDA National Agricultural Library
Document Delivery Services Branch
4th Floor PhotoLab
10301 Baltimore Ave., NAL Bldg.
Beltsville, Maryland 20705-2351

For electronic access and delivery :

The Document Delivery Services Branch accepts ILL requests from libraries via several electronic methods. All requests must comply with established routing and referral policies and procedures. A sample format for ILL requests follows.

INTERNET.....lending@nal.usda.gov
Start the subject line with one word format:

3 letter month abbreviation + day + NAL + # of request placed that day,

For Example: jul25NAL4 (if this is the fourth request on July 25).

For Example: jul 25NAL1-4 (if this is four requests submitted at one time)

OCLC.....AGL

TELEFACSIMILE.....301-504-5675

Requests can be created on standard ILL forms and then faxed. NAL will fill via FAX at no additional cost if FAX number is included on request. NAL will send up to 30 pages per article. If request exceeds 30 pages, NAL will ship via postal service. There is no RUSH service.

ARIEL™198.202.222.162

NAL will fill the request via ARIEL™ if the ARIEL™ address is included in the request. NAL treats ARIEL™ as an alternative delivery mechanism--not an expedited service. NAL will send up to 30 pages per article via ARIEL™. If request exceeds 30 pages, NAL will ship via postal service.

Required data elements for all requests:

- Complete mailing information for all requests regardless of method of delivery. (Borrower's Fax number or ARIEL™ IP address if delivery by either of these methods is desired.)
- Complete citation including verification (source of citation) and NAL call number if available.
- Date after which item is no longer needed.
- Copyright Compliance -- Pre-printed forms must contain your signature to indicate copyright compliance. On e-mail requests include the complete Statement of Copyright Compliance. Libraries may indicate compliance by including the initials of one statement, either "CCL" for compliance with the copyright law or "CCG" for compliance with Copyright Guidelines or a statement that the request complies with U.S. Copyright Law or other acceptable copyright laws (i.e. IFLA, CLA, etc.). Libraries must also provide authorizing official's name. Requests will be rejected if this information is not included.
- Maximum cost you are willing to pay for billing purposes.
